FILM PRODUCTION

Ever wanted to produce your own television programme? This is your opportunity to work as part of a production crew in a professional standard television studio environment. Working to a tight deadline, you will be given a breaking news story which you will then have to report using state of the art technology. Outside broadcasts and virtual newsrooms will be created using the centre's Tricaster system which, combined with the Live Room's Vision Gallery models how industry studios operate. At the end of the day the programme will "go live" on elearningTV.
